

The 2016 Annual Conference is a 3 day event held in Hong Kong at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. It will include a mix of keynotes, panel discussions, breakout discussions, workshops and facilitated networking. More than 500 individuals, including over 100 speakers from the Asian social investing community, are expected to attend. Conference attendance is by "invite-only".

This year's conference will address key topics, such as: poverty alleviation, collective impact, next-generation philanthropy, social impact bonds, and capacity building for social organizations.
